GOVERNORS ARE OUT.

Westerners Leave Congress.

Executives of Four States Snubbed by Conservationists.

"Couldn't Break Into That Meeting With Jimmy," Says One.

Split Due to State and Federal Control Theories Expounded.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

ST. PAUL, Sept. 6.—Declaring there is nothing more they can do and believing they have been practically eliminated from the convention, the western Governors have announced their intention of leaving St. Paul at once.

Gov. Brooks of Wyoming leaves tonight as do Gov. Vessey of South Dakota and Gov. Norris of Montana. Gov. Hay of Washington will depart either tonight or tomorrow night and thereby goes the "fighting contingent" of the National Conservation Congress.

Disappointment over the failure to receive recognition at the hands of the Congress as a whole, was evidenced by the executives from the West. Each tried to put forth a cheerful front, but it was an effort almost close to failure. Gov. Norris is particularly bitter in his denunciation.

"Why," he said, "we could not break into that meeting now with a burglar's jimmy."

NORRIS STARTED FIGHT.

Gov. Norris is a Democrat. It was he who made the "fighting speech" before the congress yesterday which really brought on the clash with Gov. Stubbs of Kansas, the presiding officer.

Gov. Hay of Washington was in a cheerful mood this morning, yet the result of yesterday's session was still before him.

"If the congress really wishes to arrange a conference between Governors," he said, "why did they not let the Governors in instead of laying everything out cut and dried before we started?"

He smiled cheerfully when mention of his words with Stubbs was made.

"I'll leave tonight or tomorrow," he said, "but I'll leave a representative here. There's nothing more I can do."

"There is nothing I can add to what I have already said," Gov. Brooks declared. "I am for States rights—the congress does not believe in it, but rather wants Federal supervision. I have had my say and am going."

ROOSEVELT IS FEATURE.

If President Taft monopolized the attention of the National Conservation Congress yesterday, he did no more than Theodore Roosevelt did today.

The Auditorium was filled to hear the ex-President drive home his policy for the conservation of natural resources.

Gov. Blanchard of Louisiana, former Gov. Pardee of California, and James R. Garfield, former Secretary of the Interior, delivered addresses favoring conservation.

Mr. Garfield was originally scheduled to talk Thursday; but John R. Barrett, who was chairman of the afternoon session, called upon him today. Mr. Garfield said, in part:

"There are two reasons why the Federal government is directly and deeply concerned in the practical questions of conservation. First, it is the most extensive land holder, and second it has great duties to per-

HOLDS UP PULLMAN.

Lone Robber Kills Flagman.

Commits Double Crime on a Moving Train in St. Louis Yards.

Escapes After Stealing Valuable of Burlington Passengers.

Trainman Loses Life in Fight Trying to Eject Desperate Intruder.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 6.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Passenger train No. 15, on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, known as the Pacific Coast Express, that left Union Station at 9:01 o'clock tonight for St. Joseph, Mo., and the West, was boarded at Union Station by a lone robber, who killed and threw overboard Flagman J. M. Wine of St. Louis, held up the porter who came back to let the flagman in his car, which he entered, robbed four passengers, got off the train at the Carver street station on the levee, and made good his escape.

The entire time consumed in the murder, robbery and escape was not more than ten minutes. The robber boarded the car platform of the last Pullman sleeper, where he met and murdered Flagman Wine, whose body was found a few minutes later on the tracks of the Terminal Railway yards under the Twelfth-street viaduct. After disposing of the flagman's body the robber held up the negro porter, who opened the rear door of the sleeper, and ordered him to go into the car and turn his lights out.

The negro, instead of obeying, went into the ladies' toilet and locked himself in. The robber did not wait for the porter to comply with his orders, but went to the rear of the train, unlocked the roof and windows, as he went, and commanded the passengers to hold up their hands.

He then proceeded to go through the car and collect the passengers of their money, watches and other valuables, and had robbed four of them when the train slowed up at Carver street station. Then he again began to fire his revolver to intimidate the passengers, while he made good his escape, which he did by leaping off the train and running west on Carver street. He was last seen in the darkness before any one could go in pursuit.

The passengers on the train describe the robber as a tall man wearing a tall black derby hat, a blue handkerchief as a mask, and a stubby beard of about three days' growth. The passengers and porter who had ample opportunity to see the robber's appearance, say the robber's features were so striking that they were satisfied they will be able easily to identify him in spite of his handkerchief mask.

According to a report from police headquarters, the robber, accompanied by a short stocky man, was seen in the Terminal yards, just a few minutes before the Burlington train left the Union Station, by an employee of the Chicago and Alton Railroad. They said to have asked which of the two trains left first and were told that the Burlington would leave first.

The informant of the police, however, did not see the men get on the Burlington train. The negro porter and passengers saw both men. The police of the Fourth District, who learned of the robbery a few minutes after it occurred, immediately threw out a dragnet, but the robber had not been captured up to midnight.

Wine, the murdered flagman, was to have been married in a few days.

VANDERBILT FOR MISS BEARS.

Most Popular Girl in Newport Smiles Now on Son of Widow of Oliver H. Belmont.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEWPORT (R. I.) Sept. 6.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) If Eleanor Sears, the most popular girl in Newport, ever cared for Paul Rainey, the Arctic hunter and explorer, his absence on the Arctic trip has eradicated the feeling. Miss Sears is the constant companion nowadays of Harold Smith Vanderbilt, son of the widow of Oliver H. P. Belmont.

Mrs. Belmont, despite her suasive views, is fond of her son and she has given unmistakable evidence that she favors his choice. It is expected that the engagement of the young couple will be announced soon.

It is supposed that Rainey learned on his return from the far North that he was no longer in his favor with the athletic young society woman. Anyway, after visiting the horse show, he sailed away for New York town, in his private yacht.

PHILADELPHIA PERISPIRES.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—Philadelphia swarmed today from the hottest September day in twelve years, and as a consequence a number of prostrations have occurred. The government thermometer at 1 o'clock this afternoon registered 92 deg.

REPORTERS SEE HER PUMMEL BANKERS.

MRS. VON CLAUSSEN UPPERCUTS BANKERS.

Two New York Financiers Attacked by Woman, in a Stunning Purple Gown, Who Wanted Interest Not Yet Due Her.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The first time Mrs. Ida von Clausen did after breakfast today was to notify half a dozen newspapers that if they would send reporters to No. 15 Cedar street, the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, they would be spectators to a very interesting proceeding.

The second thing Mrs. Von Clausen did was to deck herself out in the stunningest thing in the way of a purple gown that has been seen on the stage in a long time; and, with a dozen journalists at her skirts, the third thing she did was to go down to the United States Mortgage and Trust Company and try to knock out Oliver Belmont, the first vice-president, with one fist, while she gave the count to Carl Rasmus, the second vice-president with her other.

What Mrs. Von Clausen wanted, according to the bankers, was an alleged $500 bit of interest in the mortgage and trust company, which would accrue to her in the course of time, but not yet.

"You had better pay her," Mrs. Van Slingerland, her companion, was heard to say to Mr. Brewer. "She has notified the newspapers. These men are all reporters."

"I am very sorry," replied Mr. Brewer courteously, "but we are really unable to do as you desire."

Mrs. Von Clausen jumped to her feet and started across the office on a run. Her skirt was a semi-hobble but it did not impede her progress. With a second bound she was at the side of Brewer and she threatened with one hand in a manner that evoked a great deal of applause. Mr. Brewer ducked and as he did so the frail woman swung on Rasmus. He went down but he said afterward that she had not hit, he having slipped on the floor.

Joseph Adams, treasurer, and Frank Parsons, secretary of the trust company, came up behind Mrs. Von Clausen just as she was about to send a third uppercut to the devoted jaw of the rising second vice-president. They imprisoned her hands behind her and lifted her bodily and very screamingly out to the lobby of the bank.

"Gave you something to write about, didn't it?" said Mrs. Von Clausen to the journalistic referees as she smiled serenely and sailed away in a taxi-cab.

"TOO MUCH HYSTERIA."

Former Vice-President Fairbanks Tells Veterans Demagogues Are Abroad in the Land.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 6.—Former Vice-President Fairbanks, speaking today to the survivors of the Mexican War, declared "there is too much hysteria abroad in the country," and said the demagogue should be "down with the demagogue and up with the patriot."

After paying tribute to the bravery and courage of the Mexican War veterans, who are holding a national convention in this city, Mr. Fairbanks said:

"There is too much hysteria abroad in the land. There are many counselors and among them many false prophets. Fortunately, the American people are beginning to bear on the problems which face them that deliberate, rational judgment which has been their salvation in the past. Our country and our institutions have cost too much in the precious blood of her immortal sons to be given over either to time-servers or to chance or anarchy."

CATHOLICS AT MONTREAL.

Eucharistic Congress Opens at St. James' Cathedral With Many Church Notables Present.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—With solemn ceremony, the twenty-first international Eucharistic Congress was opened in St. James' Cathedral in the presence of several hundred archbishops, bishops and priests, representing nearly every Catholic center in civilization.

The papal legate, Vincenzo Vannutelli, was escorted to a special throne at which stood the papal chamberlains. The congress as a body sent a message to the Pope to whom the Pope replied through the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry Del Val.

NOTE OF DISCORD.

Delegate Pleads for President.

McNab of Mendocino Censures Platform Builders for Faint Praise.

Name of Party's and Nation's Head Passed Unnoticed by Insurgents.

Meyer Lissner Runs Republican State Convention at San Francisco.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Only one discordant note, coming late tonight when the deliberations of the Republican State Convention were nearing their close, broke in upon the tranquility of the party delegates who had assembled in this city today to adopt a State platform, choose a central committee and endorse the candidates nominated at the primaries on August 15.

After a day of harmony, such as promised to make the convention memorable as one in which not a single negative vote was cast on any question that came before it, a storm broke when the committee on platform submitted its report.

Chairman Harris Weinstein of the committee had finished the reading of the platform and moved its adoption, when John McNab of Mendocino county, a leader of the "regulars," was recognized by Chairman Devlin.

Advancing to the platform, Mr. McNab complimented the committee on the graceful tribute it had paid to Theodore Roosevelt, and then launched into an eloquent eulogy of President Taft. He had spoken for some minutes in eulogy of the platform builders for not having given stronger endorsement to the present administration, when Meyer Lissner of Los Angeles, who was later elected chairman of the State Central Committee, arose to a point of order.

LISSNER CAN'T STOP HIM.

Mr. Lissner declared the speaker was obviously advocating an amendment to the platform, and under the rules adopted by the convention, such amendments must go to the platform committee without first being read in the convention.

Chairman Devlin ruled the point of order was not well taken, as Mr. McNab was speaking upon the motion adopted by the convention, and the Mendocino delegate was permitted to proceed.

"The Republicans of California should not hesitate," shouted Mr. McNab, "to go before the people and say that we are unanimously proud of President Taft."

There was a chorus of protests and several delegates arose to declare the speaker out of order.

McNab at this juncture produced a resolution endorsing President Taft, and offered it as an amendment to the platform. He was declared by the chair to be out of order, as the resolution had not been submitted to the committee, and with a rousing "aye" the convention adopted the platform as originally submitted.

Save for this instance, no echo of the late acrimony that marked the late primary campaign was heard during the deliberations that attended the last transfer of party control from the conservative faction to the victorious insurgents.

CONSERVATIVES ARE QUIET.

Concessions had been made to the former before the convention was called to order, the younger element among the insurgents insisting the "old guard" be granted fair representation on the State Central Committee and the committees appointed by the convention chairman.

Leaders of the conservatives in return offered never a protest against the course mapped out by the dominant faction.

Throughout the proceedings the national leadership of Theodore Roosevelt was recognized in speech and resolution. Every mention of the former President's name was received with tremendous applause, while in at least one instance—during the reading of the platform—a reference to President Taft passed unnoticed.

Philip Teller, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, called the convention to order, in a brief speech, which indicated the conservative faction of the party nursed no grievance born of the recent contest at the primary.

"I trust that the deliberations of this convention today," said he, "will result in rolling up such a Republican majority next November as was never known before in the history of California."

STIMPSON BOBS UP.

There were patriotic selections by a band and a quartette conveyed the melodious predictions that "What Arina Johnson done to Jeff, Hiram would do to Bell."

The roll of delegates was called, prolonged cheering greeting the announcement of the name of each prominent insurgent leader.

Several delegates having announced they were there by virtue of proxies, Meyer Lissner arose to a point of order, that proxies were not permissible in the convention under the terms of the primary law, and the chair ruled the point was well taken.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DEL MONTE, Sept. 6.—Miss Hazel Hotchkiss and Melville Long defeated Miss Mary Browne and Simpson Sinsabagh, 4-6, 7-5, in the first of the mixed doubles played at Del Monte today.

The winners played in their best style, and Miss Browne easily held her own with the others, but her partner was very erratic, being clearly below his usual form.

Nevertheless, the match was thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators, who freely applauded the clever play and difficult returns made by all four players.

Miss Florence Sutton and Reuben Hunt won a hard-fought match from Mrs. H. Kearne and M. Redmayne by a score of 6-1, 6-1.

The winners, while not playing as brilliant a game as some of the other teams, showed good team work and great steadiness, and will be a combination hard to beat.

Miss Mary Sutton and Gerald Young defeated Mrs. Bruce and Dr. Sumner Hardy after a three-set match, by a score of 1-6, 6-2, 6-1.

While her partner proved able to furnish a fine support, Young has not played in the tournaments heretofore, and is making a good impression in his first try.

His first try was in judgment and in honors. He plays a very strong and hard game, drives and chops well, and is good at overhead work.

In this he closely resembles Fottrell, who was played in the preliminary round and only eight players remain in the contest.

The best match of the day was furnished by Batkin and Nourse, and though the match was not a particularly long one, it was a very hard one, and was fought from start to finish.

COMING PLAYER.

Batkin is one of the coming brigade of players who have the pace all the time and plays fast tennis cleverly and recklessly. Nourse, on the other hand, without the speed or serve or footwork of his opponent, and in his play in physique, belongs to the school who says, "dogged done it," and clearly outclassed him.

It was a question of a first-class aggressive game against a first-class defensive game, and Batkin won only after the greatest difficulty, by a score of 10-8, 6-3, 9-7.

M. Long easily defeated Ralph Gortner, though the match was a good game. Long is admitted to outclass all the other entries, although Percy Murdoch might be able to make a play of it.

Long is a very strong and hard player, and is making a good impression in his first try. He plays a very strong and hard game, drives and chops well, and is good at overhead work.

BITE OFF MORE THAN CAN CHEW.

The anti-price-fixing ordinance did not come before the Council at yesterday's session as the Legislative Committee held no session Monday to consider it. It has been apparent for several days that the Good Government Councilmen are not in line with the drastic measure prepared by City Attorney Shenk, although the instructions from the Council meant nothing less than Shenk prepared. It is probable several members will ask modifications of the measure so that at least the amateur sport will not be under the penalties as to rounds and other conditions provided in the ordinance.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

world, and the

There is a great reason to be proud of our achievements, and yet no reason to believe that we cannot excel our past. Through a practically unlimited individualism we have impressed the world with the ample material prosperity; although the distribution of this prosperity leaves much to be desired from the point of view of the individual.

But we have not only allowed the rights of individuals, in addition to using the vast combined power of our organization, and enormous wealth for their own advantage. The development of corporate action is true, is doubtless in large part responsible for the gigantic development of our country, but it is not less responsible for many of our monopolies on an equally gigantic scale.

The method of reckless and unchecked private use and waste has done for us all the good it ever can,

and it is time to put an end to it before we have passed the time when waste and destruction, and arrogant monopoly, are any longer permissible.

Hereafter, we must seek national efficiency by a better use of our resources, and by the way of the orderly development and use, coupled with the prevention of our national resources, by making the most of what we have.

For the benefit of all of us, instead of leaving the sources of material prosperity open to indiscriminate cattlemen, and now devoting himself to the study of the country life problem

there, has suggested in his recent book on "The Country Life Problem in America," the creation of a country life institute as a center where the work and knowledge of the whole world concerning country life may be brought together for the use of every individual. I am strongly in sympathy with this idea, and I hope to see it carried out with the consideration and assistance of our own people. Last spring, while visiting the capital of power monopoly in the public interest.

There is a distinct tendency on the part of our opponents to cloud the issue by raising the question of State as against Federal jurisdiction. We are ready to meet that issue if it is forced upon us.

But we have a higher task to bring before the public mind. The essential question is not one of half-splitting legal technicalities.

It simply is the question of how best to regulate the special interests for the public good? Most of the predatory corporations are interstate and have interstate jurisdiction. One of the prime ob-

MAN CHARGED WITH MURDER PATS HER HANDS.

Bel is Unconcerned as Witness Relates Story of Shooting of Lawyer Widaman—Seems Relieved of Burden—Prisoner Possesses Fascination for Wife's Brother.

Frank M. Bell, who shot Attorney O. F. Widaman to death at Artesia, was held by Justice Summerfield yesterday to answer to the Superior Court on a charge of murder.

The only thing which saved the hearing from being of the ordinary type was the attitude of the accused man himself. There was not a trace of fear in his make-up. In fact, it seemed that less than his ordinary pallor was present. He sat upright and gazed unblinkingly at the witnesses who, one after another, related how he had pursued the attorney, firing a shot into his body at almost every step.

Bel seems to be more at peace with the world than he has been for years. A great burden seems to have been lifted from his soul. He really seems to be happy over the fact that he has taken the life of a man whom he regarded as an enemy.

The prisoner's mother sat by his side. It was with a great effort that she suppressed her tears. Her body shook with the sobs which were choked back. Bell held both of her hands in his, patted them and occasionally whispered words of solace.

At one side of the room, near the back, stood Arthur Sanger, brother of Bell's wife. There seems to be some terrible fascination about the defendant for his eyes. It is apparent that he almost has to force them to leave Bell when the men are near each other.

"If he gets out, he will kill me," Sanger has declared time and again since the tragedy and Bell's arrest. This same fear has haunted Sanger for several years, and it would be a relief to him to know that Bell were behind prison bars.

The preliminary hearing disclosed nothing which had not been repeated by the witnesses many times out of the court when they were interviewed. They told of hearing the shots just after the eleven o'clock train pulled from Santa Ana, of seeing Widaman run toward the station, closely pursued by Bell with a blazing revolver in his hand, and of the glaring of the assassin.

They did not agree as to whether there were four or five shots fired. One declared that Widaman shouted: "Bell has killed me." The others did not hear him say anything.

The death of Widaman was the outcome of a long series of troubles between Bell, his wife and her family and the attorney. The episodes before the tragedy consisted of a shooting scrape in the Hollenbeck Hotel, the flight of Bell on a yacht which a constable was trying to levy on the discovery of Bell bound and gagged near Hollywood, and several trials on felony charges ranging from assault with a deadly weapon to perjury.

Under a sweet burden of flowers, the tribute of hundreds of friends, the remains of W. B. Morgan, late county fish, game and fire warden, lay during services yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Pierce chapel. Flowers filled every possible resting place about the bier. Among the pieces were a large pair of roses, an immense gate without side swinging ajar, the gift of the county officials; a number of floral pillows, several anchors, and nearly a hundred sprays of all the flowers possible to obtain at this season of the year in Southern California.

PIONEER GONE.
ON TRIP HOME,
MERCHANT DIES.

LEOPOLD HARRIS IS STRICKEN ON EUROPEAN TOUR.

Travels by Easy Stages Owing to Weakened Condition and Expires in Long Island—Active in Business Half a Century, Progressive and Charitable.

Leopold Harris of Harris & Frank, a pioneer merchant of this city, died yesterday morning at Arverne, Long Island, N. Y., after an illness of about six months.

Mr. Harris left here eighteen months ago for an extended tour of Europe and, while visiting in Berlin, was stricken down by illness. He endeavored to reach home, but his condition was such that he was forced to travel by easy stages.

H. W. Frank, president of Harris & Frank, and Mr. Harris's son-in-law and business associate for many years, returned yesterday from New York, where he went to meet him. When he left, all arrangements had been completed to bring Mr. Harris home and Mr. Frank was shocked when he received the telegram yesterday afternoon announcing his death. The remains are being sent here for interment.

Mr. Harris leaves a widow, one son, Harry L. Harris, and three daughters, Mrs. H. W. Frank, Mrs. Alfred Stern and Mrs. C. M. Adler, all of this city. Mr. Harris and the son were with him at the time of his death.

Leopold Harris was born in Prussia in 1855. When a boy he came to America and in 1854 made the trip to California, coming by way of the Isthmus of Panama. He lived in San Francisco, then came to this city in 1855. With the exception of six years passed in San Bernardino, he made this city his home during the remainder of his life.

Mr. Harris was the founder of Harris & Frank, one of the oldest mercantile concerns in this city, and it was his proudest boast that during his fifty years of active business life he weathered all storms and panics and kept the credit of his company sound. He was one of the first Los Angeles merchants to establish a credit in New York, and, though sound in his business methods, he was always progressive.

In 1885 Mr. Harris built the old Allen block at Temple and Spring streets, where the International Bank building stands. This was one of the first, if not actually the first, building erected in this city on property held on a long-term lease. In 1887, he secured a twenty-year lease on the Spring-street lots where the Sallabury block now stands, and put up that building in 1898. He purchased the site of the building now occupied by Harris & Frank from Eli Fay and erected the present structure.

Mr. Harris leaves a valuable estate, which includes considerable improved real estate in this city and in San Bernardino. Though he always did his giving in secret, it is known that he gave to the city and to the county during his lifetime, and it is believed by his family that when his will is opened it will be found that he has made substantial bequests to charitable institutions.

LAWLESS MEN
SEEK THE LAW.

Asks Protection
Then Punished for Abuse.

Asks for Early Trial, While Laborers Wait Delay.

The law-breaking pickets yesterday failed to the law they so often defy. Charles May, a middle-aged man, a member of the Fulton Engine Works, caused Grand Jurors, a deputy constable, to be arrested on a charge of battery before Police Judge Chambers. McCarty was released on his own recognizance to appear for trial by the court this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

May, a truculent little chap, has been one of the most aggressive pickets about the Fulton Engine Works since the summer, seeking to drive men off their jobs, and thereby depriving their wives and children of their bread.

May was served July 5 with an injunction ordering him to cease picketing, but he kept right on. He is a deputy constable—whose sole duty it is to safeguard the property of the Fulton Engine Works from the pickets' activities of hostile agitation. He is a former member of the police department, and his trawling has never been questioned.

When McCarty began work as an agent in front of the Fulton Engine Works, it was with a full consciousness of his dignity as an exponent of the law, and several times the riotous crowd, which he had been ordered to face, face, every time, and he retired, worried in the encounter.

McCarty got the notion that perhaps he might need the pictures of some of these pickets. This was a very big idea. He took out his little book and began snapping for his photograph gallery.

His pictures in the hands of the officers of the law are a source of comfort to them. One of the pickets about the Fulton Engine Works threatened to smash McCarty's kodak, but he changed his mind when he saw himself looking into the gaping maw of a large revolver.

After this incident McCarty patrolled the street in quiet for a while. There were no disturbances near the Fulton Engine Works. But McCarty's vigilance ended on the verge of the strike.

PICKET INSULTS HIM.
Yesterday May could contain himself no longer. Waiting over to the city on duty, he let out a volley of abuse that would have called for gun fire anywhere in Texas.

McCarty said not a word. It was no use to speak. He let go right and left, and May went down in the dust. He caused McCarty's arrest.

Marked contrast to the methods of McCarty, who asked for a quick trial by the jury, is noted by those who know him. He is a former member of the police department, and his trawling has never been questioned.

LAWLESS MEN
SEEK THE LAW.

Ask Protection
When Punished for Abuse.

Empty Constable Fined for Reacting an Insult.

Asks for Early Trial, While Laborites Want Delay.

The law-breaking pickets yesterday pleaded to the law they as often defy as Charles Moore, a member from a neighborhood of the Fulton Engine works, caused Grant McCarty, a special deputy constable, to be arraigned on a charge of battery before Police Judge Chambers. McCarty was released on his own recognizance to appear for trial by the court this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

May, a truculent little chap, has been one of the most aggressive pickets since the summer, seeking to pry men off their jobs, and thereby destroying their wives and children of their family bread.

May was served July 8 with an injunction ordering him to cease picketing, but he kept right on. It was the day the law brought McCarty, and May into collision. McCarty, who is still an officer of the Fulton Engine works, is a member of the police department, and his bravery is never questioned.

McCarty began work as an officer in front of the Fulton Engine works. It was with a full consciousness of his duty as an exponent of the law, and with a full knowledge of his position, that he met May, face to face, every time, and retired, worried in the economy.

McCarty got the notion that perhaps he might need the pictures of some of these pickets. One of the pickets was a man named May, who was a member of the Fulton Engine works. He took out his little camera and began snapping for his own photographic gallery.

Pickets do not like to be photographed. Their pictures in the hands of officers of the law are a source of discomfort to them. One of the pickets about the Fulton Engine works threatened to smash McCarty's camera.
The picket changed his mind when he saw himself looking into the gaping lens of a large revolver.

After this incident McCarty patroled a beat in quiet for a while. There was no disturbance near the Fulton Engine works. But McCarty's vigilance caused the nerves of the pickets.

PICKET INSULTS HIM.
Yesterday May could contain himself no longer. Walking over to the store on duty, he let out a volley of words that would have caused for gun snappers anywhere in the city.

McCarty said not a word. It was no use to speak. He let go right and left, and May went down in the dust.
He had caused McCarty's arrest.

In marked contrast to the methods of McCarty, who asked for a quick trial by the court, May asked for a trial before Judge Rose.

Thursday morning of last week, the court began the trial of empanelling a jury to hear the case against Hunter.
The first venire consisted of men—business men—whose attendance on court was not without considerable expense and annoyance.

Out of these sixty men, only six were called. A second venire of thirty was called, and these furnished two more jurors. Friday, Yesterday a third venire of forty men was called, and the case was continued.

At Police Judge Williams's court, C.
M. Fieder, the barber who is charged with a cowardly assault on Scott, a picket at the Alexandria Annex, who was carrying to the street the body of a comrade killed in an accidental explosion, was arraigned yesterday. Fieder, as is the invariable custom of the union laborers when arrested, pleaded not guilty, and asked for a jury trial. This was set for October 11.

TRUE BILLS.
RETURNS TWO
INDICTMENTS.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY ACTS ON IMPORTANT CASES.

McLaren, Alleged Counterfeiter, Puts Up Novel Explanation in Defense of His Crime—Captures of Chinaman for Smuggling, Exposes Profitable Enterprise.

The Federal grand jury yesterday returned indictments against Ng Fun, charged with having smuggled Chinese immigrants into this country, and against Adam McLaren, on a charge of being a counterfeiter.

Ng, who has been in custody for some time, is understood to have been a member of a gang which operated extensively until the officers broke it up by arresting the leaders. The base of the operations was between Mexico and California.

It is alleged that the criminals were accompanied from Mexican territory to a point a short distance north of the border and brought to this city.

Ng was under suspicion for several months before the officers made any attempt to take him in custody. He was witty, but they finally procured evidence which they declare will secure his conviction on a charge of being a smuggler.

The case of McLaren is alleged to have been a member of a gang which operated extensively until the officers broke it up by arresting the leaders.
The base of the operations was between Mexico and California.

FIRE-ALARM TEST.

between this effort of Coffey, and the burning off of the steel cable is this:
When the foreman reached Thirty-sixth and Wesley, on Saturday morning, to locate the trouble, he found there a man in a blue suit, who at once asked him:

"Is this the Creager car?"
"He was told that it was, when he quickly said:

"Well, we'll see now whether your cables will stand 20 volts or not."
The foreman did not know the man, but came back and told him what he had said, and I at once gave the information to the police. On Monday the detectives brought a man in, saying:

"Well, here's the man in the blue suit."
"In the presence of all the witnesses he acknowledged to being the man who made the remark to the foreman and gave evasive answers to question as to how he knew it was the Creager cable that had fallen. He is connected with one of the electric railways, and may be required to give more definite information."

It was a dastardly attempt to destroy our system, at the risk of committing murder, but I am glad that there were no serious results and that instead of doing us any harm, it has on the contrary shown that the Creager system is even better than we have claimed."

The Fire Commissioners and others interested know who the man "in the blue suit" is, but Commissioner Hawley said last night that nothing further had been done to elicit information from him. Detectives are investigating the circumstances of the "accident."

OPPOSING SIGN LICENSE.
Billboard Man's Representative Appears
Before the Board of Supervisors With a Protest.

A. Mortenson appeared before the Board of Supervisors yesterday to protest in behalf of Thomas H. B.
Farney against the license which is levied upon sign boards in the county by the ordinance passed last week.

The speaker declared that the provisions are not equitable when compared with the tax imposed by the city and that the county officials will find that they have laid out a large task for someone to keep the amount of space used measured up.

Mortenson declared that the Varney company has 800,000 square feet of bill boards in use in the city and about 200,000 square feet in the county.
He said that the other companies have jointly about the same amount.
His concern pays the city $1000 annually. The county license of one-eighth of a cent a foot quarterly is approximately the same sum, although the space is one quarter.

Chairman Nellis informed Morten-son that the sign companies had been consulted before the ordinance was passed and that all of the Supervisors had supposed that the provisions would be satisfactory to the billboard owners.

"If you will get Tax Collector Welch, who framed this clause, to make a recommendation that there shall be a modification, we will be glad to consider it," the complainant was told.

"PEEPING TOMS" CAUGHT.
Providers Under Promenades at Redondo Beach Receive Severe Treatment—One Is Jailed.

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 6.—
"Peeping Toms," prowling under the promenades surrounding the amusement buildings, were given a warm reception by the police Saturday and Sunday, when two were taken into custody. A straight forty-day jail sentence was given one today, while the other forfeited $50 bail.

One of the offenders, a man named Mortenson, was taken into custody yesterday on a charge of selling lottery tickets. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $100. Eighty-two tickets of the M. P. Mexican lottery concern, were found on Harris.

COVINA. The funeral service for Mrs. Hannah Worley, who died here on Sunday evening, was conducted today, Rev. H. W. White officiating.
Mrs. Worley was a widow and was nearly the close of her eighty-fourth year. She resided in Covina eleven years, having come here from Ohio, where she was born. She leaves one relative, Mrs. Adeline Warner, and other relatives. The body was taken to Pomona for interment.

Traced as far as Santa Ana by his mother and father, Charlie Mooney, 15 years old, who has been missing for twenty days, again disappeared, and the parents were obliged to give up the search for a time. Mr. and Mrs.
Mooney spent the last five days in driving over the country in search of him.
On entering a Santa Ana restaurant Sunday, the parents were told that the boy had just left. All traces of him were lost, however. The lad has been working for a rancher, who stated that he found the boy in a ragged condition and gave him work out of pity.

by A. J. Baird, the occupant, $100; no insurance. The church was threatened by the flames. None of the Baird family was hurt. Baird is a laborer. The

THE POLITICAL WATCHTOWER

Unhappy has the head that wears a crown. "Unhappy" has brought down to date, is the head that wears the crown of the Lincoln-Roosevelt organization, for, believed me, brethren, there is trouble in the new Republic-an county camp. It pains me to learn that treason to the cause is believed by some of the higher-ups to exist among the followers of the new standard, and, even worse, that what among some of the machine-placed candidates is the cause of the county convention of ten days ago. Ah, me, it already has come about that a band of the William J. Flinn detectives of San Francisco have been reported for the purpose of getting at the facts, and it is hinted that many of the rank and file who for the last few months have professed strongly their faith in God-Gooden are to be drummed out of camp. Likewise, that the kibosh is to be placed by the non-partisan Good Government Organization on several of the Republican candidates for county office, in order by the Lincoln-Roosevelt convention.

While the sleuths are sleuthing around, marking every move and noting every possible remark made by those under suspicion, there are daily meetings I understand, of a committee that has been formed for the purpose of getting at the bottom of things that somebody thinks are not as they should be. It seems to be the opinion of those near the throne that Edith Gibson started the snafu, fulfilling his alleged threat to smoke out Boss Lister and force him to endorse Tommy Woodvine for District Attorney and Albert Lee Stephens for Superior Judge—both these candidates being Democrats.

The meetings of the committee, which is said to include Gibson, James A. Anderson and George R. Dunlap, president of the Good Government Organization, are held at the Westminster Hotel, and before this court of inquiry have been called a large number of Republicans, formerly regulars, who in the last year or so have lined up with the insurgents, and who have appeared, at least, to favor the smashing of the old party organization.

Some say that all this pother simply is the result of the desire of the Democrats, led by Gibson, to split the Republican party hopelessly, that Bell's chances for election to the governorship may be improved, and so that a few Democrats may be landed in county office.

At any rate Charles E. Bent has been dropped as secretary of the Good Government Organization; Kemper R. Campbell, secretary of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, has been denied the post of secretary of the Republican County Central Committee; Lister, E. A. Dickson and several other L.-R.'s have quit the G.G.O., and a number of Republicans who have been training with the insurgents are out in the open in the campaign for the election of Woodvine. Among these Republicans, I hear, is Willard Andrews, a young lawyer, who was candidate for nomination for Townsman in the Seventy-fifth District, on the Democratic ticket, and who was mentioned prominently as possible chairman of the Good Government Organization, is another who is doing his best for Woodvine.

There are hints that Gavin W. Craig, who was endorsed by the Lincoln-Roosevelt League for Superior Judge, and whose amazingly large vote throughout the county surprised even his closest friends, is to be double-crossed at the November election by the organization which took him up as the premier of the county. It seems that, in this connection, the blown-in the bottle insurgency of many of Craig's warmest supporters, especially in the law school of the University of Southern California, is under investigation by the Gibson committee and by the imported Hawkshaws.

Craig, J. Perry Wood and Frank G. Finlayson were the Lincoln-Roosevelt candidates for nomination to the county Court, and all three were successful at the primaries. This was an unpleasant surprise for some of the L.-R. bosses, who hardly had hoped to pull Craig and Wood through, and who had committed themselves long ago to the support of Townsman Justice Albert Lee Stephens, Democratic candidate. With nothing now but the Democratic endorsement Stephens is making a remarkable campaign, and he should get the G.G.O. endorsement as a result of the reaction that is coming to a head, his election apparently will be assured.

One of the reasons advanced for the plan to defeat Craig is that he formerly was a promoter of the L.-R. ranks of the regular Republicans, and that a big percentage of his tremendous vote was cast by those who are opposed to the new light. Foremost it is pointed out that Craig ran neck and neck in the city with Justice J. W. Summerfield, the only regular Republican to pull through the primaries as candidate for the Townsman Court nomination. Summerfield and Craig used to be warm political bedfellows.

Somewhere and somehow the committee that is investigating the assistance of a pact was formed and that it still exists in the new light. Foremost it is pointed out that Craig ran neck and neck in the city with Justice J. W. Summerfield, the only regular Republican to pull through the primaries as candidate for the Townsman Court nomination. Summerfield and Craig used to be warm political bedfellows.

Psychic Students Comment on Spirit Message.

Wait Experiment by Soul of Prof. James.

University of Opinion About Possible Success.

HENRY CHRISTEN WARNACK, Los Angeles people who are interested in psychic research would gladly welcome a message from the spirit of William James. It is the establishment of a line of communication between the spirit and physical planes, but most of them seem to feel that while they would willingly receive such communication, a direct effort to secure it would not be legitimate.

John D. Barry, novelist, short-story writer and literary editor of the Boston Herald, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, and in the guest of Mrs. Mary J. Field and her son, P. Hastings Field, at No. 4372 Pasadena terrace, thinks Prof. James will succeed. Mr. Barry is not at all the type of person expected to be taking into the mysteries of the occult, but he has not escaped the general interest that is felt in these things in Cambridge. Twenty years ago he was a student under Prof. James, and he says that at that time Harvard's great philosopher and psychologist was devoting considerable attention to the subject of spirit communication and the phenomena of the mysterious. He does not believe that Prof. James will succeed, "if he does, he will be actuated by a motive that is entirely legitimate. In his lifetime he wanted to bring people to a better understanding of these things. He believed that much that we now think of as mystical and weirdly natural if we could understand it. He wanted people to have a higher force at their command. He wanted to know the plan of the universe."

"Personally, I have followed the investigations of Prof. James and of many noted scientists through Mr. Tupper, and other conscientious mediums, and the results which have come under my observations have given me a full faith in the continued existence of the individual consciousness after this life's close, and of the ability of the decarnate ego, under favorable conditions, to communicate with persons still existing on the earth in their natural bodies."

"If a profound scholar and a great and good man like Prof. James, who succeeded in sending a message from where he is now, to the people of the earth, I think it would bring comfort and assurance to many hearts. If you had known James personally you would realize how perfectly he was a whole man, he was not only soundly he dealt with everything pertaining to the psychic. He never dreamed of sending a message from the spirit world, but he was a man who believed that he passed from his body without proofs that were entirely convincing to himself."

"In spite of the fact that he was never fully satisfied by any of the experiments which he had been making for twenty years, I am certain that a belief in its possibility was a part of his religion. In his heart of hearts was inspired the feeling that the separation of planes was more a matter of perception than of limitation, and that people ought to bring themselves to a point of sensibility and understanding where their lives would be made happier and more useful through a knowledge of whatever can be known of the plan of the universe."

NO ADDITIONAL SUICIDES. "I do not think that a statement from Prof. James about the life of the spirit under his present conditions would bring about dissatisfaction with the earth among the living, or that it would precipitate a number of suicides, as some seem to fear. I think the will to live is of so close a kin to a deep interest in the here and now, that no assurance of the hereafter and no picture of its freedom or delight would have any considerable number of people to run ahead of nature in meeting death."

P. Hastings Field, in speaking of the likelihood of a message from Prof. James, said: "Personally, I would make no effort to get a message of this kind. I think things must come unsolicited, and when they do, come they should be accepted as a grave responsibility. I do not hesitate to say that the world has received endless benefit through spirit mediums and that I regard some of our greatest teachings in the doctrines of life to have come through such a source."

"Furthermore, we often have a confused idea, as a rule, about personality and about what really constitutes the self. In my opinion, the self is not what we commonly call the mind of the individual might vibrate to separate sentences in the world, might be expressed at the same time. In this way, an individual of great power, high consciousness and worthy motives, might seem to appear in a thousand places at the same time. You know that Lafcadio Hearn speaks of the fragments of a man's soul, and I think that expresses my idea. An atom of the consciousness of Prof. James might and sympathize with an atom of some medium and he might thus communicate the message of that one atom of himself, but this would not in the least express all of Prof. James. I doubt if any one medium ever gets the full force of any man's organization."

CHANCE FOR MEDIUMS. "On the other hand, hundreds of people may set up the claim that they are hearing from Prof. James in their spirit life and in a degree every claimant may be stating the plain truth. I know a great medium who is often troubled by a master of the occult who never lived on this earth. Sometimes through this medium he delivers lectures. Sometimes he answers questions. When questions are asked, he is never able to give an answer that goes beyond the interior development of the one who asks it. In the same way, I imagine that Prof. James, if he succeeds in communicating with the living, will find his communications limited to the mental levels of his mediums. "We often find, when coming into great-power, that we have a wisdom best for the world to demonstrate that the attitude of everybody to will the high philosophy and great teaching which may come through honest mediumship."

Dr. Walter Scott Hall of Downey and Ly of the personality of Prof. James being divided into many parts, said: "I can never tell how much of any of these are capable of divisions which

FOLEY ManagerJust as well that we do not know or think too much about these things. It might happen that the real and masterly self of William James appeared only at rare intervals in his body and it could be that all of James never appeared on this earth at any time in his late appearance as a person. In the same way it might be that Christ, the Master, used the body of Jesus, the adult, only a few years or a few hours, and that the great spirit of Abraham Lincoln might have appeared in his body only in those hours calling for great wisdom and supreme courage."NOT SO SURE.
Mrs. E. F. Liscomb, No. 4315 Benefit street, a woman who is credited by those who know her with tremendous occult learning and the psychic ability, and certainly one who, for eighteen years has made a consistent study of these subjects, said:"You ask me if Prof. James will succeed in his effort to communicate with the earth? I am obliged to say that I am afraid he will not. It could be done, of course, but such things require a knowledge of how they are to be done and if Prof. James left the earth without that knowledge, I have no reason to suppose that he will instantly come upon it in spirit life. To do these things, the knowledge must be possessed, the motive must be right and conditions must be exquisitely arranged in the astral as well as on the earth."Neither the man who sends the message nor the man who receives it can make any demand. Such things come only to the waiting. They serve only the noblest of purposes and they are done out of a knowledge as exact as the clearest of physical sciences.
To hope that a man who never knew these laws will now be able to speak on demand through others who never have mastered such secrets, is a hope that is vain, indeed."FEARS SUCCESS.
Hector Allott, head of the Southwest Museum and a man who availed himself of every opportunity to investigate the psychic experiences of noted mediums for many years, said:
"I hope that Prof. James will succeed. The world is full of the unexplained. This we must all admit, but without a general development in this direction, I think, exceptional manifestations might do humanity more harm than good. I think it would unsettle any number of people to have an assurance of this kind unless they had earned it for themselves, and I believe the moment that Prof. James came into the freedom and the knowledge of spirit, by laying down the body, that he also came into a wisdom which carries with it an obligation of secrecy. In the face of this wisdom, I do not believe it will be any temptation for him to endeavor to communicate with the earth."The very power that men seek to come upon through psychic readings is a power that carries with it destruction if unwisely used. We have any number of cases of persons who go insane because they come upon more knowledge than they are responsible for. Indulgence of such knowledge is an abuse involving terrible penalties, and while, as a race, we are moving toward a clear perception of these great subjects, it will have to come to us as a matter of general growth.
We have a lot of refining to do in the physical, and no end of mental development ahead of us, before we can have earned such a thing as spirit communication."IS NOT SANGUINE.
Paul Carpenter, of this city, who,
by the way, is a doctor of philosophy from the University of Chicago, and a man who has given a great deal of attention to these subjects, said:
"Some day men will do these things, but I am afraid that time has not yet arrived. While I would be gladly to see a successful outcome of this experiment, I am not sanguine of its results. Such a thing involves an understanding of the laws governing it and I do not think that man is at yet the master of these laws. I do think there is a big and splendid trend in this direction and that many of us who are now alive will live to see demonstrations and manifestations which the world would now regard as miraculous. My attitude is one of waiting, rather than one of skepticism. When revelations of spirit come to men, I want it to be the normal expression of what we have all become."Miles Theodore Howells, No. 809 Hayden avenue, a cousin of William Dean Howells and a great student of the philosophy of the late William James, said:
"I believe in the good faith of Prof.
James in this matter, but I do not expect that anything will come of it.
I think the veil between the realms of matter and spirit are definite. We have a hard time making form respond to thought right here in the body, while we have the full use of our alert faculties, and this makes me feel that when we deal with a force as settled and as fine as a spirit we are getting beyond our depth. As far as the aspect of our faith concerned, I am old fashioned enough to see a good deal in the statement of Jesus that if people will not believe the prophets, they will not believe one from the dead."SPIRITS MAY MEET.
It is an interesting fact that Richard Hodgson, for many years the secretary and the most enthusiastic personality connected with the National Society for Physical Research, has been out of the body for five years.
Some of the friends of Prof. James yesterday thought that if Prof. James were reasonable to suppose that these two men will find one another readily in their astral lives, since they were related in their work while on the earth. They thought too, if there could be any wisdom in a communication from Prof. James, that it would be to assist him in delivering his messages."One adept in these things said that he felt that Prof. James had enjoyed the control of his faculties in a natural way long enough to express the possibilities of his present consciousness and that it was exceedingly unlikely that he would be allowed any further communication with the earth until he had had sufficient rest to fully digest the experience of this life and to reach a higher point of reflection. This man thought that when earth next heard from Prof.
James it would be by incarnation in a new personality.
He stated that there were sometimes possibilities of transmigration into a younger body, but that when such things are done they are always profound secrets, even in cases where cause, there is no memory except in a vague, confused fashion. It is usually not considered lawful for one to speak of the occult to speculate very far in a public way about these things."TELEPHONE TODAY. The Times

END OF JAM
IS IN SIGHT.Pacific Electric Cars May Desert Main Street.San Pedro Better Suited to Company's Needs.Franchise Question Is All That Stands in Way.Relief from the Main-street traffic congestion is in sight if favorable action is taken on the Pacific Electric company's application made yesterday for a double-track franchise on San Pedro street from Aliso to Seventh.
If that franchise can be obtained all of the interurban cars will be taken off Main street.The plan of the company, as outlined in The Times some weeks ago, is to extend its elevated tracks north of the depot at Sixth and Main through to San Pedro street, thus making it possible to discharge cars to that franchise, opening out onto Main street, which will be closed up.The traffic officials of the Pacific Electric estimate that with the cars run over San Pedro street instead of Main, fifteen minutes can be saved in the running time of all north-bound cars and five minutes on all southbound. The delay resulting from congestion of traffic between Sixth and First streets is a serious matter and during the rush hours and on holidays the schedules are frequently shattered.
The removal of the interurban cars will also relieve the congestion of the yellow cars. At the present time persons depending on the Main-street locals are seriously inconvenienced between the hours of 4:30 and 6 o'clock, and blockades are of almost nightly occurrence. During the rush hour the average time required by a car to cover the distance between First and Seventh streets is fourteen minutes.At the present time the Pacific Electric is operating 1200 "trains" a day out of the Sixth-and-Main-street depot. On holidays the travel is heavier.
These "trains" are made up of from one to five cars and the average number of single cars on a week day is 1600.
During the rush hours on week days, and practically all day Sunday, two-car trains are run to Pasadena, Monrovia, and Covina and the local trains to the beaches. The Catalina train consists of four or five cars, according to the amount of travel.The approach to the depot on Main street were not constructed with the view to handling such long trains and, in consequence, derailments are entirely too common. This results in delays not only of the other interurban cars, but of the local cars as well.The construction of an approach to the elevated tracks in the rear of the depot and the alteration of the building proper to handle the cars via the proposed route will mean the expenditure of a large sum of money, while the track laying on San Pedro street will entail no small expense. The officials of the company believe that the improvement in this service and the great elimination of blockades will more than offset the expense of construction, however.

Big Ranch.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 6.—Joseph

Lafferty, 40 years old, married, a trusted employee of the Kern County

Lumber Company in a capacity of milker, was shot to death at the day ranch, nine miles south of Bakersfield, Sunday, by J. R. Loftus, single, aged 27, a land company rider, as the result of a quarrel and fight on the previous evening. Lafferty was shot through the body, the bullet piercing the stomach. He died in an hour, without making an ante-mortem statement as to the shooting. Lafferty and Loftus quarreled Saturday night. Lafferty, it is said, prevented Loftus from abusing a horse.Loftus resented Lafferty's interference and a fight ensued. Lafferty gave Loftus such a beating that the latter tumbled a horse.It is said that Loftus is a brother of Loftus Brothers, diamond merchants of Chicago, and that he was sent west to get him away from the city life.

Loftus will not talk.

covery.Cochrane was sitting on the edge of a bed only partially dressed playing with his children when he was stung.
He paid little attention to the insect except to kill the insect. This morning physicians were called and it was found that not only was his right thigh was terribly swollen about the tiny bite, but that the entire right side of his body was covered with startling black spots, indicating that the poison had permeated his entire system.L. M. Harg, aged 20, a resident of yesterday, while on an outing in Mountain Home, a resort a few miles east of this city. He was lying on the ground below, a distance of 50 feet, and received injuries from which he will die. Harg and two companions were engaged in a contest to determine which could climb the highest. He easily outdistanced his competitors and was seated on a branch, waving his hat in exultation, when the limb broke.J. J. Woody, familiarly known throughout Tulare county as "Doc"
